You have been provided with a database detailing all of the people in the spa during the murder.

You will need to decipher and solve a series of five clues, each of which will eliminate half of the suspects.

Clue 1: Get in shape

One guest decided to work out late one evening after dinner in the spa gym. While lifting weights, he noticed something suspicious through the glass gym doors. He has provided you with an eyewitness statement:

1. Total number of sides of 5 squares
2. An octagon has ___ sides
3. A square based pyramid has ___ vertices
4. The total sides of a triangle, square and a hexagon
5. The total sides of an octagon, a heptagon and a hexagon
6. The total sides of 2 nonagons
7. A rhombus has ___ sides
8. A pentagon has ___ sides
9. Total sides of an octagon and a decagon
10. Half the number of sides of a decagon
11. The number of sides in a triangle multiplies by the number of sides in a hexagon
12. A parallelogram has ___ sides
13. Total sides of 3 hexagons
14. The number of sides in one equilateral triangle, one right angle triangle, one isosceles triangle and two scalene triangles.
15. The number of right angles in 2 squares and 2 rectangles
16. Total sides of 4 rectangles
17. Number of lines of symmetry in a regular pentagon
18. Number of sides of a trapezium
19. Number of lines of symmetry in a kite
20. A cube has ___ vertices
21. Number of sides a circle has
22. The total sides of 4 pentagons

The answer to each question is a number.

Each number will need to be converted into a letter:

A = 1 B = 2 C = 3 D = 4 ...

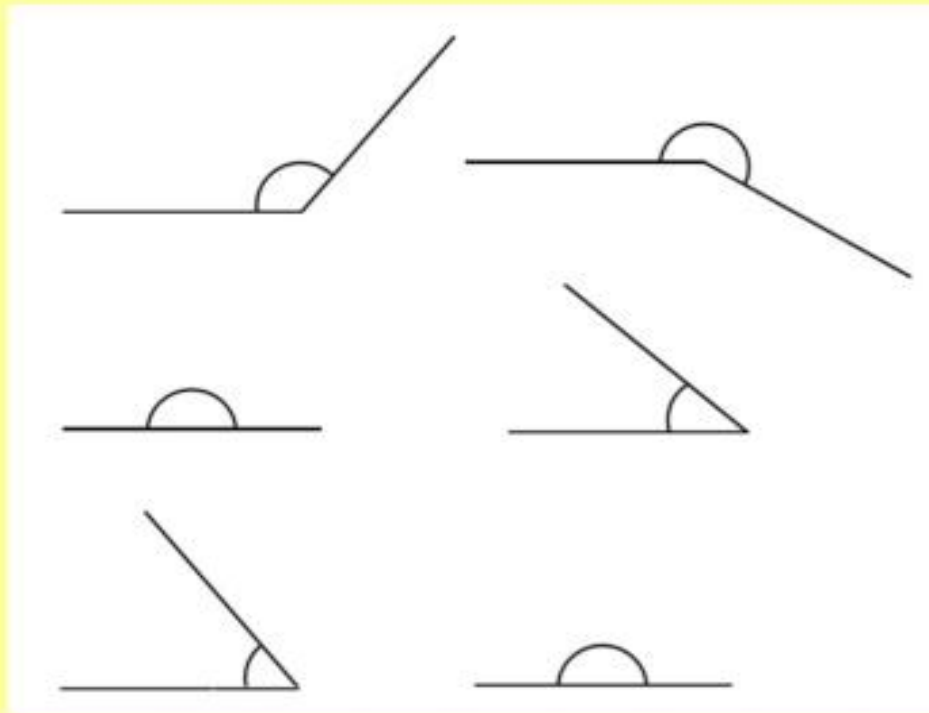

Your letters will form a sentence that will allow you to eliminate some suspects.

MURDER MYSTERY!

Clue 2 - Look at the mystery from a new angle!

An electrician was working late in the spa investigating an earlier blackout. While examining the fuse box in the spa lobby, he noticed an individual walking towards the murder scene out of the corner of his eye. While he did not manage to see the individual's face, he remembers one very important detail!

Measure each angle carefully with a protractor.

$$10^\circ = a \quad 20^\circ = b \quad 30^\circ = c \quad 40^\circ = d \dots$$

Measuring each angle carefully and converting the angle to a letter will provide you with the electrician's statement.

Clue 3: Where do the compass points lead?

An explorer on an expedition through the nearby forest stumbled upon the spa late on the night of the murder. Exhausted, cold and hungry, she decided to check-in for a night. She didn't know it, but when signing in at Reception, she was stood right next to the murderer and noticed something significant!

F	G	H	I	J

Handwritten annotations on the grid:

- A blue "W4" is written above the letter H, with four curved arrows pointing west from H to K.
- A bracket on the right side of the grid, spanning from row 3 to row 4, is labeled "N2".

Follow each instruction between the \

e.g. N2, W4 = K

Following each instruction and noting down the letter you land on will provide you with the explorer's statement.

MURDER MYSTERY!

Clue 4 - It's time to co-ordinate your investigation

An architect booked a weekend stay at the spa where he planned to finalise his plans on a building project in a nearby town. He was sat late in the common room by the grand window, working on his plans the night of the murder. He was disturbed from his work by an incident on the spa's driveway.

Identifying the letter at each co-ordinate will provide you with the architect's eyewitness account from the spa's common room.

Clue 5 - The mystery testimony

The maid who first discovered the body has been too traumatised to speak since the murder. Instead, she has written her account and provided a separate morse code. There is a clue hidden amongst the words. What did the maid see on her journey to the murder scene?

A	. -	H	O	---	V	...-
B	-...-	I	..	P	.-.-	W	.-.
C	-.-.	J	..---	Q	---.	X	-.-.
D	-..	K	-.-	R	.-.	Y	-.-.
E	.	L	-.-.	S	...	Z	---.
F	...-	M	--	T	-
G	---.	N	-.	U	..-

The forty-two year old cleaner stepped into the room. Her part-time job did not prepare her for the shock. A body lying on the floor. She nearly fainted. Then she called her full-time supervisor, Phew. At least she had help. The twenty-three year old stopped. She stared.

Her skin turned a whiter shade of pale. Pulling herself together she dialled 999. The middle-aged operator asked her who she wanted.

She asked for the police. Her father-in-law was a policeman but he worked in a top-notch ten-year-old department in another constabulary. He was only part-time these days. Once the police had been called they started looking for the murder weapon.

The cleaner pointed to the large machine in the corner. On the X-ray machine was a note. A coded note. One they could not understand.

They made a half-hearted attempt to read it. Twenty-five minutes passed. The police arrived sirens blaring. An ambulance also turned up. The cleaner recognised her ex-boyfriend who was the driver. Twenty-two minutes later the police began their investigation in the murder at the health spa
