

Eight Babies Born Late!

Yesterday there was some dismay as a lady went into hospital, and it was her birthday! She was told to wait as it was late in the day and she was cross about the delay. The doctors could see she was frustrated at her wait and asked her to lay on a bed. Suddenly there was a wail and suddenly out popped not one baby but eight! The lady was shocked but they were all safe with a good weight. When asked about names the lady said, “So far I’ve only named one baby Daisy, I can’t think of any more!”.

Can you think of any more names with an “ai” sound?
